Letter from Harper's Ferry.

HARPER'S FERRY, VA., March 28, '65.
The Government is massing a considerable number of troops here, for what purble number of troops here, for what purpose it would be vain to speculate at present. Major General Hancock has the headquarters of his veteran corps at Winchester, some thirty miles further up the valley. We are temporarily attached to his corps and constitute what is called the "First Provisional Division." The first brigade consists of the 144th, 146th and 150th Indiana Volunteers. The division is commanded by Brevet Major General Brauks, our brigade by Brevet Brigadier General Love. Both officers seem to be gentlemen of the right stamp, and officers aen of the right stamp, and officers knowing their duties.

Although we are not exactly in the front. we are near enough to develop the metai of th officers and men. The first night after our arrival here some of our outposts were attacked by a small party of rebel scouts; the word was brought to our camp and in ten minutes Lieut. Col. Ferguson, then in command, had every man in the regiment under arms and in line. Most of the men marched up to the old dilapidated breast-works with as much coolness as old soldiers, uot thicking for a moment that there was not a single round of ammunition in the regiment. Our officers were not long in supplying the men with forty rounds each. After remaining in line an hour we returned to our quarters well satisfied with the favorable result of this our first battle. Your readers have no doubt heard some-thing of the fight in this vicinity between the 12th Pennsylvania cavalry and Mos-by's men. Our troops were ordered one day last week to scout a part of this and Loudon county in search of a band which had for some time been hovering around and annoying our outposts. The expedition consisted of the 12th Pennsylvania cavalry, under Col. Reno, and a part of the lst regiment of veterans. After proceeding some twenty-five miles the cavalry unexpectedly came upon some five hundred of Mosby's men, and were received with so much warmth that they were compelled to fall back upon their infantry reserve. The rebels followed, and were in turn repulsed and routed. We lost seventy men and took sixty prisoners. ellent health prevails among the troops at this place. The energy displayed by our officers and the spirit with which the meu enter upon their duties, is going in a short time to prepare them for the ac-tive duties of the field, and then our friends may look for a good account from us.

SOBER. Even the Union Press now exhorts the President to issue a proclamation. Heretofore it would not have been right; now it is in order. The Press is progressive. Ioes not Anonymous think it would have been just as well to have tried to save the 6 months, 5 00 tens of thousands of lives lost in the last few days.—[Democrat.

We don't know any better answer to give 100 than such as we find in the editorial coi-1 y the week-payable to the Carrier- 25c. umns of the Democrat, written during a lucid interval of loyalty:

The more we say peace, the more safely cau they insist on their issue. If we show any anxiety to quit, they will have no motive to give up their issue. The shortest road to peace and Union, is to liet it be understood and believed that we will fight till the day of judgment, unless the Union is restored.

If we had any response to propositions for peace in the South, the question would be different. But the meu at Richmond will not listen to peace. They suppress all aspirations for peace and Union. They expect by success to win fortune and tame, now and hereafter, and to lose all if they don't noin their end. don't gain their end.

In a rough sort of way the substautial and all-controlling objections to making any more overtures to the "men at Richmond" until they are reduced to helpiessness, are here stated. They dont want "pence and Union." They "suppress all aspirations" for these amongst their followers. They have invariably made dexterous use of all advances towards negotiations on our part, as indications of our failing power and conscious lack of ability to conquer a peace. A fresh proclamation issued by Mr. Lincolu any time during the last three weeks would have been used in the same way, and probably with some effect. It is soon enough for us to "show an anxiety to quit" when the rebels have "a motive to give up their issue." We think it necessary for them to feel that we will "fight till fire day of judgment," unless they are willing to return to the Union. Only one week ago yesterday Ricomond papers told their renders that Northern prowess and constancy were strained to their utmost tension, and were just on the brink of a grand slump into bankruptcy and despair. Had an attempt at further negotistions been made just then by President Lincoln, how promptly those incorrigible scoundrels would have used it as a uation. Is it not better to continue to resist even unto death than to accept such a peace as this? The object of the Yankees in waging the kind of war they are now engaged in carryng on against us, could not be mistaken It is no longer a restoration of the Union that they seek. That was from the first a mere pretense, used to cover the designs which at once might not have been so prin-

The universal belief among them is that they are on the point of our subjugation, and that it is therefore no longer required that prudence make a mystery of the fat they design for us. That fate is the utmost degradation which their ingenuity, promped by their malice, can devise. They will not be content with merely beating us will not be content with merely beatir 4g 11s into a surreuder; we must suffer all the horrors of conquest ever heretofore put it a practice against a defeated foe, with the addition of new ones devised for the especial gratification of their hatred. The at hatred is a passion universal among is a passion universal among the whole

Yankee nation. The Democrat dilutes this sort of stuff with results like this:

Unfortunately we have no confidence either in Mr. Lincoln or M.r. Seward. We have no reason to believe that they have any desire to do otherwise than to continue hostilaties. They are urged to, and sustained in this by the mass of their party who have a debt of vengear are against the South they desire to pay, dec., dec. * * * * * *

on the beginning he has reasoned with people, and that openly, about the nole matter. Twice he was sentenced to w nole matter. Twice he was senteuced to be hung by a secret Military Commission, out the authorities never could find a man to do the work. A lawyer by profession, and an anti-slavery man by education, he undertook a task which ought ever to make his memory honored by the negroes and those interested in their condition. After the unsuccessful assault upon Wagner in July, 1863, a military court was convened to try the black prisoners captured from the 54th Massachusetts regiment. It was decided after some delay that military courts had no jurisdiction in the case, and that the had no jurisdiction in the case, and that the matter should b. handed over to the State. Mitchell volunteered as counsel for the men, and after five months' trial he gained his point and convinced a South Carolina jury that these men were free. To do this you can imagine how fearlessly this brave soul must have worked. An intelligent quadroon told me that he was present dur-ing the last ten or twelve sessions, and that Mitchell's eloquence was perfectly start-ling; at any rate, it had the effect of awak-ening the jury so much to the importance

Cummings Point, and his family thus left more destitute than ever. They are being very well looked after now, and I dou't think will be allowed to suffer much hereafter. For all this service had the disappearance of the authorities and the ceidness.

How we Make Constitutional after. For all this service he had the displeasure of the authorities and the coidness of the people; but the way in which the negroes talk about him is very tender.

Nothing can be added to this simple narrative. Among all South Carolinians we have ever heard of, Nelson Mitchell a'one seems truly chivalric. Through all the intolerable gasconade and inhuman sophistry of the absurd State, his plea for the black prisoners is the sole ennobling sound. Is it callage and to the fine gentlemen and to Calhoun, and to the fine gentlemen and ladies his followers, or to Nelsou Mitchell, that the great Master speaks: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it uuto me.—[Harper's Weekly.

The True Deita learns, from a gentleman who recently arrived from Key West, the following interesting particulars of the expe-dition which left that place on April 6th.

The expedition consisted of two infantry regiments, 3d and 99th United States Cav-alry, and 2d Florida white Cavalry, under command of General Newton District Comcommand of General Newton, District Com-mander, in person. Several vessels of the Navy, under command of Lieutenant Coumanding Gibson, also started with the ex-peditien, intending to destroy the town of St. Mark, but owing to the shallowness of St. Mark, but owing to the shallowness of the water in St. Marks they were forced to the gulf without accomplishing any damage to the enemy. The vessels were flagship Hibiseus, Fort Henry, Sters and Stripes, Isonoma, Spirit and Magnolia.

All the property belonging to the rebel Government in Newport, including the shot and shell-fac-tory, was burned. General Newton march-ed his forces to a point eight miles above Newport to the National Bridge, where he again met the enemy in increased numbers. The position was vigorously attacked, and the rebels again driven, our troops pr', rsuing to within a few miles of Tallah assee. Heavy additional reinforcements con', d now be seen coming to the assistance of '.he rebels, and General Newton determin' d to fail

The reader will find in the following extract from the Richmond Dispatch of last Friday, the original of the Louisville Deurocrat's views, respecting "confiscation," and the implacable enmity of our Government towards the inhabitants of the Confederacy:

Never were people more woefully deceived. The Yankee will have no mercy upon them. He is only for leaving when he finds his proposed victim in a coudition to resist. Let us but once be at his mercy—completely in his power—incapable of further resistance—and we might as well hope for mercy from a tiger, or compassion from a wolf, or forbearance from any other cruel and cowardly wild beast of the forest.

The Yankee will not only strip his victim of everything he has in the world down to the very clothes upon his back, but he will take every other means to embitter his situation. Among the criticisms which have been nade, on Mr. Tennyson's poem of Enoch Ard on, it has been objected that it is a very mi robable incident that Enoch should nave been able to live and to work in his norther village so long without being recognized. The following true story, related by the Jacobite Dr. William King, in the Political and Literary Aneedotes of his own Times, shows that such an incognito had really hear kent up. really been kept up:

much affected Mrs, Howe that she fainted away. However, she soon recovered, when it was agreed that Dr. Rose and his wife, with the other gentlemen and ladies who were then at supper, should attend Mrs. Howe the next evening to the Birdcage Walk. They had not been there more than five or six minutes when Mr. Howe came to them, and, infer saluting his friends and embracing his wife, walked home with her, and they lived to Warehouse, 311 Main St., Louisville, Ky. When Howe left his wife they lived in a house in Jermyn street, near St. James' Church. He went no farther than to a little street in Westmiuster, where he took a room, for which children by his wite when he departed from her, who were both living at that time, but they both died young a few years after. However, during their lives, the second or thind year after their father disappeared, Mrs. Howe was obliged to disappeared, Mrs. Howe was obliged to apply for au Act of Parliament to pro-cure a proper settlement of her husbaud's estate, and a provision for herself out of it during his absence, as it was uncertain whether he was alive or dead. This Act he suffered to be solicited and passed, and eujoyed the pleasure of reading the progress of it in the votes, in a little coffee-

the manner I have mentioned. Mrs. Howe at first imagined, as she could not conceive any other cause for such abrupt elopement, that he had contracted a large debt unknown to her, and by that means involved himself in difficulties which he could not easily surmount; and for some days she lived in continual apprehensions of demands from creditors, of seizures, executions, etc. But nothing of this kind happened: on the contrary, he did not only leave his estate quite free and unincumbered, but he paid the bills of every tradesman with whom he had any dealings; and upon examining his papers in due time after he was gone, proper receipts and discharges were found from all persous, whether tradesmen or others, with whom he had any manner of transactions or mouey coucerns. Mrs. Howe, after the death of her children, thought proper to iessen her family of servants and the ex-penses of her housekeeping, and there-fore removed from her house in Jermyustreet to a little house in Brewer-street, near Golden Square. Just over against her lived one Salt, a corn-chandler. kuew Sait, who related to me the particulars which I have here mentioned, and many others which have escaped my meur ory. About ten years after Howe's abdicawith Salt, and was at length in such a de-gree of intimacy with him, that he usually dived with Salt once or twice a week. From the room in which they ate it was not diffi-cult to look into Mrs. Howe's dining-room where she sat und received her company and Salt, who believed Howe to be a bachelor, frequently recommended his own wife to him as a sultable match. During the last Buckeye Reapers and Mowers, seven years of this gentleman's absence he went every Sunday to St. James' Church, and used to sit in Mr. Salt's seat, where he had a view of his wife, but could not easily be seen by her. After he returned home he never would confess, even to his most inti-mate friends, the real cause of such singu-lar conduct; apparently there was none; lar conduct; apparently there was none; but, whatever it was, he was certainly ashamed to own it. Dr. Rose has often as ald to me, that he believed his brother. Howe would never have returned to his wife if the money which he took with him, which was supposed to have been £1,000 or £2,000, had not been all spent; and he must have been a good economist, and frugal in his manner of living, otherwise his money would scarce have held out; for I imagine which we are relling low for cash.

SWIFT DISTRUCTION, The rapidity with which firemen "go to blazes!"

THE DAILY PRESS THE UNPARDONABLE OFFENSE. is not so dangerous a lion as he might br. Aguew of New York, a devoted and seem. He stands ready to suppress his ., an account of the condition of our exchanged prisouers now at that point awaiting shipment North. We make the following extract from his terribly graphic deserlption.

The returned prisoners sent into Wil-mington numbered about uine thousand. About six thousand of the less famished have gone North. General Abbott, who received our poor fellows in the Exchange, has just told me that language would utterly fail to describe their condition. Filth, rs of rags, nakedness, starvation, were personitied in their condition. Many of the men have were in a state of mind resembling idiocy, unable to tell their names, and lost to all thrown the official bulletins together. The victory appears to be complete; and the fact that so small a portion of our grand army was engaged is an overwhelming proof of the utter rout to which Lee's army is reduced.

Probably our readers will not be able to find on the map either the village of Dantonville or Sailor's creek. Draw a line along of their hands and buttocks, pushfrom Burkesville junction directly towards in along gangerous feet, literally reing along gangrenous feet, literally reduced to bone and shreds, before them. Others leaned upon staves and glanced from sunken eyes through the parch-ment-like slits of their oren eyelids into space without having the power to fix an intelligent gaze upon passing objects. Others giggled, and smirked, and hobbled liked starved idots, while some adamantine figures walked erect, as though resolved to move the skeleton homewards so long as vitality enough remained to enable them to do so. To see the men who remain here in hospital would move a heart as hard and cold as marble. Their condition is that of men who have for months suffered chronic starvation. Their arms and legs look like coarse reeds, with bulbous joints—their faces look as though skin over the bare skull, and then placed talse eyes in the orbital cavities. They de-fy description; it would take a pen expert in the use of every term known to the auatomist and the physiciau to begin to expose their fearful condition. May God in his la-finite mercy furgive the creatures who have done this horrid thing.

It is too late for Lee and the traitors with whom he .s yoked to allege that they could not do better-that they had not the food or raiment and the means to protect these brave and suffering men. Recent experience has shown this to be a foul and deliberate lie. The vast amount of provender, rice, and other products captured by Sherman at Sa-yannah, and known to be hoarded in VIrginia, accessible to the rebel authoritles. prives that Lee was cognizant of all the cruelties perpetrated upon his prisoners, and either coolly refused to prevent these atrocities, or else deliberately directed and sanc-The Governor of Illinois has received ricty, established in the recent confession of a committee of the rebel Congress, that a a committee of the rebel Congress, that a quantity of gnupowder was put under Libby prison, and that, if an attempt had been made by our captive Union prisoners to escape, they would have been blown into eterulty. SHOT AND KILLED .- A German named not allow any person to pass ont. About II | ber contains the usual official intelligence. oclock Leflier aud another German, a gardener who lives out some distance from the city, were going out on the Bardstown road in a wagon, and were stopped by a guard this side of Cave Hill Cemetery. It is stated that they insisted upon going on and were passing the guard when he fired, the ball taking effect in Leffler's leg. Auother version is that the gardener was about to turn his wagon around and go back when the guard fired. Leiller's leg was so shattered that it became necessary to amputate it yesterday morning, but he did not long survive the operation. He died about 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

Leffler was engaged in Goss & Bentz's brewery, on Jefferson street, and was accompanying the gardner out to his home, when he was shot. The soldier belongs to the 123d U.S. C.I. An inquest was held upon the body of the deceased.

The fire spoken of in our yesterday's paper as having occurred in the building occupied by Hanna & Co., corner of Third and Main, originated in, and was confined to, the building adjoining, occupied by J. B. Williamson as a printing office. The fire was first discovered in Williamson's room, against or near the studding partition dividing his office from that of Hanua & Co. This discovery was made by two gentlemen who slept in Hanna & Co.'s othee, and who, through the dense, suffocating smoke, barely made their escape from the third story in time to give the alarm, and, through the prompt exertions of the firedepartment, to save that and adjoining buil-

VICTORY UPON VICTORY!!

BATTLE OF SAILOR'S CREEK.

SHERIDAN OVERTAKES LEE FIVE MILES NORTH OF BURKESVILLE AND ROUTS HIS

ARMY—OFFICIAL BULLETINS.
WASHINGTON, April 7, 10 A. M.—To Maj.
Gen. Dix: Gen. Sheridan attacked and routed Lee's army, capturing Generals Ewell, Kershaw, Button, and Corse, and may other general officers, several thousand prisoners, and a large number of cannon. He expects to force Lee to surrender all that is left of his army. Details will be given as speedily as possible, but the telegraph is working badly.

E. M. STANTON, Secretary of War.

WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, April 7, 11 A. M.—To Major General Dix: The following telegram, announcing the victory won yesterday by Major General Sheridan over Lee's army, has just been received by this department. E. M. STANTON, this department.

Secretary of War, CITY POINT, April 7-8:35 A. M.: To Hon. E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War:-At II:15 P. M., yesterday, at Enrksville Station, General Grant sends me the following from Gen. Sheridan.

[Signed] A. LINCOLN. APRIL 6-11 P. M: Lientenant General Grant:—I have the honor to report that the enemy made a stand at the intersection of the Burk's Station road with the road upon which they were retreating. I attacked them with two divisions of the 6th army corps and ronted them handsomely, mak ing a connection with the cavalry. I am still pressing ou with both cavalry and infantry.

Up to the present time we have captured Generals Ewell, Keishaw, Button, Corse, Dabarry, and Curtiss Lee, several thousand prisoners, fourteen pieces of artillery, with caissons, and a large number of wagons. If the thing is pressed, I think Lee will surrender.

P. H. Sheridan.

City Point, April 7, 9 A. M: To E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War.—The General has the following intelligence, which has just been received.

A Lincoln. BURKSVILLE, VA., April 7: To A Liucoln -The following telegram is respectfully forwarded for your information:

U. S. GRANT.

MEADES' HEADQUARTERS, April 6-11 P. M.-Licut. Gen. Grant: At daylight this morning I moved the 25th and 6th Army Corps along the railroad in the direction of Amelia Courthouse, Soou after moving intelligence was received that the enemy was moving lowards Farmwell; the direction of the 2d and 5th corps was innuediately changed from a northern to northwestern direction, the directing corps, the 2d, moving on Dantouville, and the 5th, heretofore in the center, moved on the right of the 2d, and the 6th facing about, moving by the left fank, taking position on the left of the 2d corps. It was nuder-stood that the cavalry would operate on the extreme left. The changes were promptly made. The 2d corps upon becoming engaged with the rebels near Danton-ville, driving him by the right across Sailor's creek to the Appatomax. The 5th Sailor's creek to the Appatomax. The 5th corps made a long march, but its position prevented its striking the enemy's column efore it had passed.

The 6th corps came up with the enemy bout 4 P. M., and in conjunction with the 2d on the right and the cavalry on the left attacked and ronted the rebels, capturing many prisoners, among them Lieut, Gen. Ewell and Gen. Custis Lee.

I transmit dispatches both from Gen. Humphrey and Wright, which lu justice to these distributed of the research these distinguished officers and the gallant corps they command I beg may be sent to the War Department to immediate public action. It is impossible at this moment to give any estimate of casualties on the other side, or of the number of prisoners taken but it is evident to-day's work is going to be one of the most important of the recent brilliant operations. The pursuit will be brilliant operations. continued so soon as the men have had a little rest. Gen. Gritlin with the 5th corps will be moved by the left and right, and Humphrey's continue the direct pursuit as long as it promises success.

GEO. G. MEADE, Maj.-Gen. Second Army Corps, April 6-7:30 P. M. To Major General A. S. Webb-Our last light, just before dark, at Sailor's creek, gave us 2 guns, 3 flags, and a considerable number of prisoners, 200 wagons, 70 ambulances, with mules and horses to about one thalf the wagous and ambulances.

There are between thirty and fifty wagons in addition abandoued and destroyed along the road, some battery wagons, forges and limbers. I have already reported to you the capture of one gun, two flags, and some prisoners, and the fact that the road for over two miles is strewn with tents and clates to architecture.

The wagons are across the approaches to The wagons are across the approaches to the bridges, and it will take some time to clear it. The cuemy is in position on the heights beyond with artillery. The bridge is partially destroyed, and the approaches on the other side are of soft bottom land. We cannot advance to-morrow in the ame manner as we have to-day. As soon as I get my troops up a little, as we are considerably mixed, I might push a column down the road, but it is evident I cannot follow rapidly during the night.

A. A. HUMPHREYS, Major General.

HEADQUARTERS SIXTH CORPS, April 6-10 P. M.—To Major General Webb, Chief 10 P. M.—To Major General Webb, Chief of Staff—Sir:—In pursuance of instructions of this morning from Gen. Meade, I moved from Petersburg by the shortest practicable road to the left of Dautonville, with the object of there taking position on the left of the 2d corps.

Striking the road running from Dantonville to Burk's Station at a point a little to the southward of the former place. I found the southward of the former place, I found that the 2d corps was engaged to the front and right, and the cavalry inoving to my left. Moving down in column upon the road leading to Burk's Station perhaps a inlle and running sharp to the right. I proceeded across toward a nearly parallel road on which the enemy was moving and along which he had thrown up a line of entrenchuents. As soon as the leading di-vision, (Gen. Seymour's) could be formed, it was moved up the road shelled by the enemy which was carried. Then turning the left, it was advanced down the road against a pretty strong resistance. By this time Wheatou's division was got in position as rapidly as possible on Sey-mour's left. The rebels were again ad-vanced and were swept down the road for a distance of two miles. Arriving at a deep and difficult creek we found the enc-my had reformed his line ou the opposite side where we attacked and drove him point distant half a mile further.

In the first attack a portion of the cavalry operations were on our right, and in its subsequent attack the mass of the cavalry operated on our left and right flank of the possible. The corps has nobly sustained the reputation it earned on the 2d inst., as well as on previous hard fought fields H. G. WRIGHT, Maj. Gen.

THE JACKALS ON THE LION'S TRACK.
The Herald's Washington special says the War Department has been literally beseized by tobacco speculators to obtain passes to Richmond. It is asserted that some special trade permits were granted, but most of the applicants were advised to wait till the wounded soldiers in the recent battles have been properly cared for.

A SLIPPERY REBEL. same special says some time ago The same special says some time ago Slidell a rebel representative in Paris, gave mortgage to a French banker for $60,000 npon his property in New Orleans. The banker now claims the property under the laws of Louisiana. A suit will be instituted in the United States Court, and will be made a test case. made a test case.

HOW LEE WAS BEATEN. The Heraid's special from Sutherland Station, 4th, says the real battles for Richnaond were fought by Sheridan and Wright on seperate days. The former compelled Lee to weaken his lines, and the latter took advantage of its weakness. Lee made a grave mistake in sending Pickett so far from the defense of Petersburg; while he strengthened his flanks we penetrated his center, cutting his army completely in two, its separate parte can never be wholly reunited. The tatal error will cost him half of his army.

So coutident was Grant of the success of his plans, so soon as he discovered the post-tion of Pickett, that moment the assault was determined on. Sheridan's cavalry and the third corps were ordered to push out directly west in order to be nearer the line of retreat which they must take when the result was successful and l'etersburg ours. The entire army was immediately put in motion for the same purpose aud in same

THE POSITION TUESDAY. Petersburg was taken yesterday fore-noen, Gen, Grant's headquarters were ten miles west of that city yesterday evening. The military situation to-night is substantially as follows: Graut's headquarters at Sutherland's Station; Gen. Meade's one half mile distant, nearly in the rear: Gen. Ord's not much farther away, but more to the northward; those of Gen. Sheillan and the 5th corps more than thirty miles west of Petersburg, beyond Namozine creek; those of the 2d corps north of the Appointation tox and five miles northwest of here; those of the 6th corps ten miles in our rear, and the 9th corps immediately behind it.

The grand army is evidently headed for Burksville or the nearest point on the Dan-ville Railroad. When Wright had cut his way through the rebel lines, Lee saw he must fight promptly or all was lost. So vital was this considered that he led a brigade in person and narrowly escaped death by the explosion of a shell which stunned and killed several in his vicinity. THE LOSSES.

Lee is believed to have lost 20,000 meu

LEE'S PROSPECTS It is confidentially believed that Lee cannot cress the Appointatox, nor can John-ston join hlm, our forces being between the two. General Lee's officers remain tirm, but the soldiers desert in large numbers. Lee's army is fast disorganizing. The rebels in Richmond said that it would soon fall to pieces if it was closely followed by General Grant.

Refugees and Loyalists. One of the most significant features of our ourney through the South has been the freent prayer and entreaty of the people that hey might be permitted to join our column and march with us to the sea, or wherever we might go, so that they could leave this region of despotism, anywhere ont of the South and towards the pure air of freedom again. One is a mechanic, who was born and reared in the old Granite state. He came here four years ago as master mechanic in a railroad machine-shop. He has been able to avoid service in the army, because his services were necessity in the shop. He has the along, for his services can be unade

At Columbia there are sevenl families of wealth and position, who had always been suspected of loyal proclivities. Upon our occupation of that city it became known to the rebel inhabitants that these people had always assisted our prisoners, and previous to our approach, had secreted a great many at imineut peril. It would be impossible to reject these generous, sell-sacrificing friends. The fire had not spared their houses, and they were homeless, but we well knew that of transportation had necessitated a refusal of these requests. But some of the wagons were now emply: then there were a number of vehicles captured from the enemy; horses and mules we bring in every day, and again, not a lew of the families asking our protec-tion are able to turnish their own transpor-

General Howard was in command of the did not appeal in vain to his generous sym-pathetic heart, which never refuses to sympathize with those in distress.

With the approbation of General Sher-man, General Howard at once organized an emigraut train, which was placed under guard of the escaped prisoners belonging to other commands. This train has been separated, and apportioned to each division of the Fifteeoth and Seventeenth corps. They are getting along lamously. Ladies who have been accustomed to the refinements of life, seem to eujoy the journey as much as if it were a picuic. In truth, it is better than that; for, while they are not exposed to the dangers of war, they participate in its ex-citements. The column has a singularly outre appearance. First, there will be a their personal baggage crowded about them; then an army wigon loaded with men, wo-men and children, comfortably seated upon such articles of honsehold truck as they are allowed to carry. Following this will be a country cart filled with negro women, for the negroes come along also, and hosts of the little curly, bullet-headed youngsters gaze curiously upon the strange sights which meet tocir eyes,

General Hazen, whose name can never be mentioned but with inspiring recollection of the assault of Fort Modifister, tells me that the large number who accompany his division are but little trouble to him, and that they have so quickly learned to forage for themselves that they are no expense to the government. Two of the escaped officers, with a detachment of ten men, have charge of the train, which takes its assigned place In the column; a few tents, which are in ex-cess or have been captured, are pitched when the column go into camp, and our little colony with grateful hearts go to their night's rest with the glad consciousness that they are step by step approaching a land of civil-ization and treetom.

In this life, so new and strange to the refugees, numbers of families become separated from each other. Portions of the army, who for days march on separate roads, will at one time or mother come together again, as at this place for example, when three corps, which have been marching on differrest suspicious looking characters.

the intention of the American Government to a termination of the reciprocity treaty and the convention relating to an armed force on the lakes. He says the treaty would terminate twelve months from the day the receipt of the notice was acknowledged. He admitted the acts committed on the lakes, and fully justified the American Government in the steps taken in regard to the reciprocity. He trusted it might be renewed with certain modifications; also that arrangements be made for a limited armament for police service on the lakes. He hoped the present pacific relations between the two governments might continue, and trusted that nothing would be done in England to interrupt them. He, however, regretted speeches had been made in the Commons calculated to excite an unfavorable reciping in America, and concluded by declaring that England had not acted ed by declaring that England had not acted wrongfully in any way toward America, and reiterated his hopes for continued

COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE LOUISVILLE UNION PRESS, FRIDAY EVENING, April 7, 1865. The market opened this morulng rather firmer for sevral articles of trade, but in the afternoon, owing to the ecline in gold, the market was again unsettled. Bread-tuffs are lower, with fair shipments to Nashville and Memphls, with a slight decline in grain. In groceries and produce there is very little movement, excepting to the country and local trade in jobling lots. Tobacco improved this morning, though the offerings were light, and the price of ouly one hogshead was rejected. The weather has cleared off rather cool, and the river was slowly re eding this evening, but stationary in the morning.

The money market has been considerably excited to day, and as stringent as ever, excepting a failing off in the demand, which is not as urgent as heretofore. Cur-rency is fluctuating, and the banks are not receiving the notes of the Bank of Ashland and the Farmers' Bank of Kentucky, owing to the difficulty of converting them luto legal tenders. Large amounts of Kentucky bruk note are being returned to the banks of lesue for redemy The brokers are quoting Eastern exchange as rather scarce at par buying, and selling at % to % pr. minm Gold opened in New York, as we learn by special dis-patches, at 150/a, declining to tip at 11 A.
